Recipe to Reality Seminars

There are many great food ideas just waiting to be produced. Entrepreneurs who have one of those ideas should attend a Recipe to Reality seminar. This seminar is part of the nationally recognized Food Entrepreneur Assistance Program at the University of Nebraska Food Processing Center.

The next seminar will be Friday, Aug. 10 in Lincoln. Pre-registration is required and space is limited. Registration deadline is July 27. Other upcoming dates are Oct. 1 in Omaha (presented in Spanish) and Oct. 29 in Lincoln, NE During this one-day seminar, participants receive information on such topics as market research, product development, production facilities, packaging, labeling, pricing, product introduction, promotional materials, food safety and legal and business structure issues. Since 1989, the seminar has helped hundreds of entrepreneurs investigate the reality of starting a food business.

For more information, go to www.fpc.unl.edu or call 472-2819.

Nebraska Statewide Arboretum Photo Contest

Capture the beauty of Nebraska through the Nebraska Statewide Arboretum! Twelve images that best display the theme, "A Year in the Garden," will be compiled into a calendar and may appear in other NSA publications and displays. Each winner will receive five copies of the calendar and a tree seedling from NSA. Rules and entry forms can also be found online at <http://arboretum.unl.edu>. For more information contact NSA at 472-2971. Entries must be postmarked by Sept. 14.
